PLANS GO IN FOR 750 MORE HOMES

New school building officially unveiled

A £4.35MILLION school campus in Rooksdown was officially opened last Friday in front of parents and pupils.

Castle Hill Primary School's new building will provide a total of 210 new school places for children aged four to 11 years old.

Concerns raised over application to build on Hounsome Fields site

By Christian Wilson

AN OUTLINE planning application to build up to 750 homes on land to the west of Basingstoke has been received by the borough council.

The £90million proposals would also see the construction of a neighbourhood centre – including a new primary school, community centre, nursery, shopping facilities and indoor sports hall on land off Trenchard Lane near Dummer.

As previously reported in the Observer, developers Wates Development Ltd invited residents to attend two consultation events in November to give their views on the proposed development.

The site, known as Hounsome Fields, is already included in Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council's emerging local plan to build 850 new homes each year until 2029 after previously being approved by councillors.

And with the findings of a Government planning inspector's report into the local plan due in March, the applicants have now set out their desire to create a "gateway to Basingstoke" at the 45-hectare site.

The application reads: "The scheme has the potential to deliver a high-quality built environment whilst protecting and linking to its surroundings.

"In addition to the much-needed new homes, the development will bring accessible new jobs as well as regeneration and social benefits for the wider community."

The plans would see 41 five-bed, 146 four-bed, 194 three-bed and 174 two-bed houses built opposite Basingstoke Golf Course just off Winchester Road, as well as 133 two-bed and 62 one-bed flats.

But with around 1,000 homes planned for the golf course, and 310 houses already approved to the north of the site at Kennel Farm, Oakley and North Waltham borough councillor Stuart Frost expressed his concern that the area would lose its identity.

Accidental ruling in crash inquest

THE father of a Winklebury man who died after crashing his motorbike into the side of a car has paid tribute to his son.

By Christian Wilson

Jamie Hill, of Sycamore Way, suffered fatal abdominal and chest injuries on November 1 when he failed to brake in time as he travelled along Sherborne Road towards the junction with Oakridge Road.

The 25-year-old's Yamaha R125 then skidded sideways along the tarmac and into the side of a Nissan that was travelling along the other road and had the right of way, with Mr Hill later being pronounced dead in hospital.

Following the accident, the family's friends and the motorbike community clubbed together to raise around £2,000 for the popular former Fort Hill Community School pupil's funeral, with dad Andrew speaking of his pride in his son.

He said: "I'm into my bikes too and would be lying if I said I didn't worry when he went out riding, just like my mum and dad would have when I was younger.

"The biking community has been fantastic and it means a lot that people have given donations.

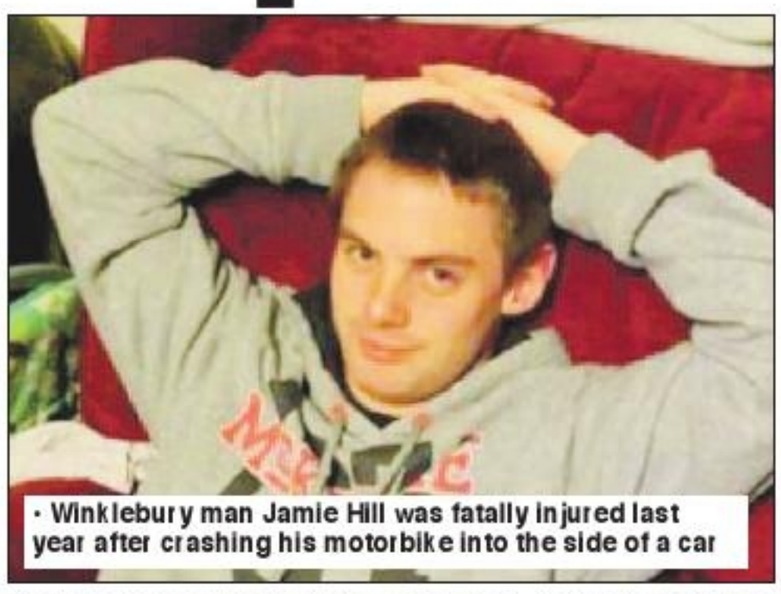
"Jamie is like me, he would go out of his way to help anyone, whatever time of day or wherever they were.

"I'm very proud of him for that."

An inquest into Mr Hill's death at Basingstoke Law Courts on Monday heard that he had levels of mephedrone in his system at the time of the incident, with attending police officer PC Drew McDonnell pointing to the drugs as a contributing factor.

He said: "There is no evidence to indicate that he was driving over the speed limit at the time of the collision.

"It could have been misjudgement or a distraction for why he braked as late as he did, because in my opinion, the give way lines should have been visible to him.



· Winklebury man Jamie Hill was fatally injured last year after crashing his motorbike into the side of a car

"The high levels of drugs found in his system must be considered a considerable factor in this incident."

North East Hampshire Coroner Andrew Bradley ruled that the death was an accident in his verdict, adding: "Clearly he's been driving along not dramatically fast when the incident has happened – he's not a boy racer that you might see on the news.

"Whether he's not noticed the junction because of the mephedrone or whether he's been inattentive, we'll never know."

He added: "It's almost as if he thinks he has the right of way, and it's not until too late that he throws in the anchor, with catastrophic results."

Water works

HOOK: Residents and businesses will get the chance to learn more about a £334,000 project to upgrade a section of old water pipe that has burst nine times since 2012 at a drop-in session on Tuesday.

South East Water will lay a new 350-metre section of pipeline along Station Road as part of the work, which will take place from April 11 and end by the end of October.

Members of the project team will be on hand to answer questions at Elizabeth Hall in Raven Road from 5pm.

Employers praised

BASINGSTOKE: Hampshire County Council has thanked over 30 companies for supporting their staff to volunteer their time as school governors.

Employers were presented with Governor Services Employer awards last week for allowing their workers to get involved.

Basingstoke-based companies Rhema Textile Services Ltd and Sony Europe Ltd were nominated for awards by Cliddesden Primary School and The Hurst Community College governors Effie Grant and Paul Kelly.

The council's executive member for education, Cllr Peter Edgar, said: "School governors play a vital role in driving school improvement."

Charity appeal reaches landmark figure

A BASINGSTOKE-BASED charity's fundraising appeal has passed the £1million mark following a five-figure donation.

Basingstoke Deane Rotarians handed over a cheque for £10,000 to the Ark Cancer Centre at the club's annual charity concert on Sunday.

The charity is looking to raise £5m towards building a local cancer treatment centre for the area, with rotary club president Paul Temple praising the work of the organisation.

He said: "The Rotary Club is proud to support many local good causes.

"But we felt there was a standout case for supporting one charity above all others this year, and we have focused a lot of our fundraising towards Ark Cancer Centre Charity."

Basingstoke and Deane's mayor Cllr Anne Court, Arctic Convoy war veteran Retired Lieutenant Commander Roy Dykes and North East Hampshire MP Ranil Jayawardena were among the guests to attend the event, which raised around £15,000 for a range of good causes.

The club's £10,000 donation is to be doubled due to it being made through Greenham Common Trust's findmeagrant matchfunding scheme, with the Ark Cancer Centre thanking the group for its generosity.

Charity trustee Merv Rees said: "This donation brings the total raised for the appeal through public donations to £1million, so well done.

"Thank you to everyone who has contributed so far."

'Historic day' for town as new school unveiled

AFTER nearly 18 months of construction, a brand new school campus in Rooksdown was officially opened on Friday afternoon.

By Christian Wilson

Around 150 parents, pupils and councillors joined teachers in packing out Castle Hill Primary School's assembly hall for the unveiling in Park Prewitt Road.

A total of £4.35million has been spent on constructing the timber-clad building, which is situated directly next to Rooksdown Community Centre in an attempt to create a "community hub" for the area.

The new facilities also include space for outdoor teaching, hard play areas and sports pitches, with headteacher John Martin, who also leads the school's Greenbank campus in Winkle-bury Way, lauding the "beautiful" end product.

He said: "I'm hugely proud and honoured by all of this.

"I love this school and my team here, we're like a close family – I'm truly blessed.

"When we started here and looked around the site it was just a pool of mud.

"But the end result is beautiful and this school has definitely been built with love."

The campus, which is part of a £142m investment by Hampshire County Council to build new schools, opened its doors to its first 30 pupils in September and will now look to fill its capacity of 210 children, aged between four and 11.

Pupils gave a tour of the facilities to a whole host of councillors during Friday's ribbon cutting event, including the mayor of Basingstoke and Deane Cllr Anne Court and the county council's executive member for education Peter Edgar.

Cllr Edgar said: "This just demonstrates the tremendously close relationship the council has here.

"This is a very special and historic day for Basingstoke and this school, which is brilliantly designed.

"Schools only work well when the whole community is involved, and it's great that it is next to the community centre to make it such a community hub."

A tree was also planted outside the school as part of the ceremony to mark Mr Martin's 25th year with Castle Hill, with Basingstoke MP Maria Miller praising the head for his work.

• Headteacher John Martin's 25th year with the school was honoured by the planting of a ceremonial tree outside the new campus

She said: "So much work has gone into turning this school from a shell to what it is today.

"To John on his 25th anniversary I want to say thank you because he's done so much for this area and we're all so grateful for it."

Chair of governors for the school, Brian Dixon, added: "He's an inspirational guy and has said before that this place is in his blood, which I think is true.

"If you cut him in half, John would bleed Castle Hill."

Road closure

BASINGSTOKE: The Black Dam Roundabout is to be completely shut to road users for three days while surfacing work is completed.

The much-maligned roundabout will be closed from 10pm tomorrow night until 5am next Monday morning.

Further closures are expected before the end of March.

Drink driving

BASINGSTOKE AND DEANE: Hampshire Constabulary has revealed that 23 people from the borough were caught during operations to tackle drink and drug driving over the Christmas period.

This figure is down one on the previous year's findings as part of Opertion Holly, which saw patrols carried out across the county from December 1 to January 1.

Two cars stolen

CHINEHAM: Police are calling on residents to provide information after two cars were stolen from a house in Chineham last week.

The incident occurred at some point overnight on Thursday, with offenders breaking in and stealing the keys to a blue Mercedes C220, along with another vehicle that has since been recovered.

Up to 750 homes to be considered for Hounsome Fields

• From front page

He said: "I welcome the fact that we're looking to build more homes because I think Basingstoke does need them badly.

"But I'm concerned about the encroachment on Oakley because we need to ensure that the village maintains its status as a village.

"We are in danger of being absorbed by Basingstoke, and ending up as accommodation for Basingstoke like Popley, Buckskin and Chineham."

The borough council last year approved plans to build 96 homes bordering Hounsome Fields at Beggarwood Lane, while the authority also granted full planning permission to build a new critical treatment hospital to the south of the site.

And Cllr Rob Golding, also of Oakley and North Waltham ward, joined Cllr Frost in voicing his disapproval of the positioning of the proposed development.

He said: "The A30 is bad as it is, and with this, Kennel Farm and the golf course, I don't see how it will be able to cope.

"We will have to keep the pressure on Hampshire County Council to find the money to improve the roads.

"The local plan is supposed to have suggested the most suitable sites for building and I don't think this is it, but we have to now try and make the best of it."

Council planning and development manager Mike Townsend added: "The outline application is currently being considered by the council and this includes consulting with residents.

"The final report will be considered in due course."

Bramley 50-homes plan is blasted by councillor

A MUCH-DISPUTED application to build 50 new homes in Bramley is set to go before Basingstoke and Deane's council for a second time next week.

By Christian Wilson

As previously reported in the Observer, the authority delayed a final decision on the £5million plans for land north of Sherfield Road back in December due to concerns over flooding at the site.

Extra information on the threat of flooding to the nearby C32 road and Strawberry Fields has since been gathered as a result, ahead of next Wednesday's development control committee meeting.

But despite the new findings, borough councillor for Bramley and Sherfield Nicholas Robinson believes that the application is still to address a lack of village resources and places at Bramley Primary School.

He said: "I really hope this doesn't go ahead and I think it should have been completely thrown out at the last meeting.

"It was deferred so that information on the possible flood risks could be found, which means the council is still ignoring the lack of resources, roads and schools in the area."

"Where are all these kids going to go? How are people going to get around on the roads?

"These are all questions that aren't being answered in this application."

The council received 136 different letters of objection from the public to the plans ahead of the committee's last meeting, following concerns of the impact it would have on the village alongside other nearby developments.

Officers are recommending that the application from Gleeson Strategic Land be approved following additional information.

But with the developers also investigating extending the development on the site eastwards, Bramley Parish Council has accused Gleeson of "attempting to dupe us all" with the 50-home proposal.

A statement from the parish council said: "They insult our intelligence when applying for 50 homes when their clear intention is to develop the whole site.

"The application has no respect for the true impact excessive development is going to have on existing residents, as quality of life will be made miserable by the added traffic on the C32."

Gleeson land and planning manager Rachel Scott added: "We have no immediate plans to submit an application for the wider site, but we have been open about our aspirations to develop the larger site in the longer term."

Dads put in the hours at hospital

NEW dads from across the borough are now being given the opportunity to stay overnight in Basingstoke hospital's maternity unit.

The initiative means that fathers can choose to spend more time with their newborns as well as providing support throughout the night for their partners.

Hampshire Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (HHFT), which runs the hospital, rolled out the idea following feedback from mums that they would appreciate the extra help from their family.

One person to benefit from the move was Basingstoke's Julia Bliss, who admitted she was grateful for the support of her fiancé Max West in the nights that followed the birth of the pair's daughter Esmae.

She said: "Esmae is my first baby and the birth was a bit traumatic, so it was good to have Max here with us.

"It was really comforting and meant that I didn't need to ask the staff for help with every little thing."

HHFT maternity pathways manager Fay Corder added: "A lot of women in the maternity unit are young and healthy, so they may not have stayed in hospital before, which can be a bit daunting."

She continued: "If they have had a long labour, it can be reassuring to know that somebody they trust is looking after the baby while they get some much-needed rest."

Residents have their say on policing needs

RESIDENTS from Alton have taken part in an online survey to help set policing priorities in the area for the next three months.

The main concerns raised centre around anti-social behaviour in the town centre during the evening, burglary offences, and assaults.

Alton's Neighbourhood Policing Team (NPT) have responded to the feedback by increasing its patrols in Market Square, High Street and the Cross and Pillory Lane areas.

The NPT has been working closely with response teams to disrupt criminal activity, with the number of offences relating to assault in Alton dropping over the last three months.

Sergeant Claire Winter said: "People living in Alton and the surrounding area have raised a number of issues of concern.

"It's important that our local NPTs receive feedback like this to ensure we are addressing the issues that affect you.

"It's especially important in rural areas where smaller communities may be affected by very specific issues.

"I'd encourage anyone who hasn't already taken part to fill out the next survey which will go live at the end of February."

County's council tax bill set to rise by 4%

HAMPSHIRE County Council is due to raise its council tax by 3.99 per cent as part of its next budget.

By Christian Wilson

The rise would see average homeowners across the county charged an extra £41.40 a year in taxes as the authority looks to deliver savings of £98million by April next year.

· Hampshire County Council leader Roy Perry

Hampshire County Council's cabinet is expected to approve the tax increase when it meets tomorrow, with a final decision on the authority's budget then due to take place at a meeting of full council on Thursday, February 18.

Around £20m is expected to be generated in annual revenue for the county council by the rise in order to deal with £29m in cuts from Government, with council leader Roy Perry predicting further hard times ahead.

He said: "We are facing the most challenging period of the prolonged national austerity measures.

"In Hampshire, this means having to deliver savings of £98m by April 2017, rising to a further £140m of savings by 2019/20.

"We have a strong reputation for careful financial planning, but it's clear that having lost so much of our Government grant, future savings will become even harder to find.

"We are proposing to continue applying these principles in the years ahead, as well as considering an increase in council tax for the first time in six years – an approach which was supported by the majority of people who fed back to us during our summer consultation."

The tax rise comes at a time when Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council is due to debate a £1.98 council tax increase of its own, following £800,000 cuts in grants from the government.

Alongside the revenue budget, discussions at cabinet will also include the capital budget and proposals for the investment of £563m in Hampshire's economy, building plans and jobs over the next three years.

Cllr Perry added: "While a proposed increase of 3.99 per cent would contribute towards making up some of the lost grant and social care costs next year, we would still need to use £55m of reserves to plug the remaining gap, leaving us with nothing for future years.

"We had always anticipated using some reserves to balance the budget next year to give us the time to reshape and modernise our business, but we had not expected to need to use so much – especially when proposing to put up council tax."

Third prize of £50 goes to Little London ticket 86229, and Sherborne St John ticket 60782 gets fourth prize of £20.

Prizes of £5 go to 02895, 09073, 11737, 16774, 23849, 28985, 32961, 34385, 45880, 48442, 50644, 64726, 67265, 80576, 81748 and 84791.

EU discussions

BASINGSTOKE: Residents will be given the chance to relay their thoughts on the upcoming EU referendum in the Top of Town on Saturday.

A 'Vote Leave' street stall will run from 10pm to 1pm in Market Place, opposite the Willis Museum.

Basing councillor Onnalee Cubitt and fellow independent representative Ian Tilbury, of Overton, Laverstoke and Steventon ward, will be among several borough councillors on hand to speak to the public.

Cllr Cubitt said: "We have a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to regain control of our country and make a difference."

Campaign begins to help Emmy to walk

A BASINGSTOKE family has started a campaign to raise the funds needed to provide life-changing surgery for their two-year-old daughter.

Emmy King was diagnosed with Cerebral Palsy Spastic Diplegia and suffered brain damage after being born eight weeks prematurely.

By Christian Wilson

The neurological condition causes increased muscle tone in the legs and feet, making them constantly stiff and difficult for those affected to move around independently.

But with surgery available in the USA with the potential to help Emmy walk on her own one day, mum Carly has appealed to the public to help raise the £85,000 needed to give her daughter 'the chance to live a normal life'.

She said: "It has been difficult and it's hard to see her get so frustrated because she can't understand her condition and play with her friends.

"But she's such a happy and determined child and always gets back up smiling when she falls down.

"When children take their first steps, parents want to take videos and put them on Facebook for everyone to see.

"For us, that first step will take £85,000, a trip to America and lots of treatment, but it would mean everything to us, I can't even put it into words."

More than £3,000 has already been donated by members of the public towards Emmy's surgery, treatment and the equipment needed for her rehabilitation.

And after losing Emmy's twin sister Ava to complications during her pregnancy, mum Carly's "ultimate dream" is now to see the two-year-old walk hand in hand with her big sister Isla.

She said: "We're incredibly lucky and proud of her – she's a miracle and is a little fighter.

"Her and Isla are the best of friends, and it would be so amazing to see them walk alongside each other hand in hand.

"It's my ultimate dream."

First step taken in plans for 95 Sherfield homes

BASINGSTOKE and Deane's council has received a request for screening approval for the potential build of 95 houses in Sherfield-on-Loddon.

As previously reported in the Observer, more than 200 residents unanimously opposed the plans for Goddards Farm, in Goddards Lane, at a meeting of Sherfield-on-Loddon Parish Council last month.

But following a public consultation on the build that saw only 215 residents receive the appropriate documents, Gladman Developments is now investigating whether an Environmental Impact Assessment (EIA) is needed for the project.

The application reads: "Having considered the proposed development at Goddards Lane, it is our opinion that it is not likely to have significant environmental effects.

"There is nothing intrinsically important or special about the quality of the landscape on or surrounding the site in environmental terms."

A screening opinion is the process of evaluating the likely environmental impacts of a proposed development.

The application added: "The development is similar in nature to the surrounding housing and will not have any complex hazardous or significant environmental effects."

February update from your Independent MEP for the South East Janice Atkinson

Last week I travelled to Strasbourg for one of the twelve visits we MEPs make to vote in the European Parliament. MEPs have voted to abandon this travelling circus which costs £130m per annum but it is blocked by the French.

In last week's plenary we discussed the migrant crisis - (it's on the agenda again) - it's on the agenda every month. The unelected Commission has decided that EU states will have compulsory migrant quotas imposed upon them. A German minister helpfully suggested that we impose a fuel levy to fund this issue. This is in addition to the €3bn paid to Turkey to stem the migrant flow (with no limit). Turkey also demanded (bribed) that work visas should be waived and talks accelerated for Turkey's membership of the EU. Yet still the migrants come.

MEPs agreed that external borders should be strengthened. Some EU states are well ahead of this, ie Hungary, but they face 'sanctions for inhumane actions'. You cannot win.

This month, three of the political groups asked that the sex attacks on women and school children across European cities and the media cover-ups be on the agenda. The Germans blocked the move. I spoke about it anyway.

I have visited Calais on a number of occasions and highlighted in Parliament that the majority of illigal immigrants in the camps are fit young men who are economic migrants, not refugees. Those that are genuine refugees should be returned to camps in the Middle East and north Africa to stay in their countries in safe havens and fight for their freedoms too.

We travel back to Strasbourg in early February. Again, we will discuss the crisis, much will be proposed, more British taxpayers' money will be spent but nothing done because of the inability of Parliament to recognise that the nation states and voters' views are very different to the bureaucrats' vision.

15 new jobs

CHINEHAM: Fifteen new jobs will be created by hi-tech company Anoto Ltd this year.

The Swedish company, based in Chineham Business Park, will look to move to larger offices within the park as the company builds on the 10 new staff that joined last year.

Volunteers sought

ALTON: A Selborne museum has called on residents to give up their time to attend an open day.

Gilbert White's House in High Street will throw the 'We Love Our Friends and Volunteers' event from 10.30pm to 3.30pm on Thursday, February 11 in a bid to encourage people to get involved with the charity.

The free event will give residents the chance to look behind the scenes at the museum and will include a buffet lunch at its Regency Tea Parlour.

Mayor's quiz

BASINGSTOKE AND DEANE: The borough council's mayor Cllr Anne Court will attend the Mayor's Charity Quiz tomorrow.

Basingstoke College of Technology (BCoT) will host the event at its North Site in Worting Road, running from 7.30pm to 11pm.

Council's stadium decision criticised

FANS of Basingstoke Town FC last week joined club officials in expressing their disappointment at the borough council's decision to reject plans to build a new £10million football stadium.

As previously reported in the Observer, the National League South club had hoped to build a 5,124-seat venue at no cost to the taxpayer on land at Old Common in Eastrop.

By Christian Wilson

But following 10 years of negotiations, the club saw the proposals blocked last Tuesday night at a meeting of the council's cabinet and were told that there was no other council-owned land available for the build.

And Basingstoke Town FC, who currently play at the Camrose in Western Way, responded to the ruling by stating that they were "dumbfounded and dismayed' by the decision.

A club statement read: "Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council will surely go down as one of the first councils in the country to turn down an excellent opportunity to have a new facility.

"The club quite clearly are dumbfounded and dismayed at this decision and feel money and time has been wasted by the club."

Club chairman Rafi Razzak added: "I am extremely disappointed at the decision, having spent so many years believing the council wanted this to happen and working alongside us to achieve what we thought were joint aims."

And supporters took to Twitter last Wednesday to voice their displeasure at the news, with one fan vowing to set up a petition regarding the decision and take it to parliament.

Howard Dunn wrote: "Disgraceful! No doubt they'd rather give the land to some developer for houses!"

Jimmy Vallence added: "It's absolutely shocking, that land is overgrown and hardly used!"

Lifelong fan Paul Carter told the Observer: "Councillors should be encouraging the development of such things in order to modernise our town and plan for the future."

Residents packed into the council's civic offices for last week's meeting to show their objection to the plans, with wildlife charity Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE) Hampshire praising the cabinet's ruling.

Trustee Edward Dawson said: "Masses of people have come forward to say they care about saving the Old Common.

"Putting a sports stadium on it was inappropriate and simply wrong.

"It is heartening to see such wide public support to keep our open spaces green."

Basingstoke and Deane Borough Council cabinet member for finance and resources Cllr John Izett added: "Undoubtedly the proposal had a number of community benefits.

"But I have listened to the views of local people who clearly make use of Old Common and have told us of the value of green space in our town centre."

Killer admits to murder of Milly Dowler in 2002

A CONVICTED serial killer who dumped the body of a 13-year-old girl in woods to the east of Hartley Wintney has admitted to the murder for the first time.

Schoolgirl Milly Dowler's body was discovered in Yateley Heath in September 2002, six months after she had disappeared on her way home from school in Walton-on-Thames.

Levi Bellfield, who lived next to where the teenager went missing, was given a whole-life sentence in June 2011.

And police last Wendesday revealed that Bellfield, who now calls himself Yusuf Rahim, had admitted to the abduction, rape and murder of Miss Dowler, having previously denied the crime while on trial.

Detectives from the Surrey and Sussex Major Crime Team also arrested and then released a man in his 40s after receiving information relating to allegations of rape and assisting Bellfield with the abduction.

A Surrey Police spokesperson said: "The man arrested has subsequently been released with no further action as no evidence has been found to support the allegations.

"During this investigation police spoke to Levi Bellfield and he admitted his responsibility for the abduction, rape and murder of Milly Dowler."

FareShare brings the fight against hunger and food waste to Basingstoke

Food redistribution charity FareShare Southern Central is coming to Basingstoke to help provide food for people in need in the area.

FareShare saves good food from going to waste and sends it to charities and community groups who transform it into nutritious meals. The team would love to hear from local organisations working with vulnerable people who could put good food to good use.

"Basingstoke has many great charities and community groups working to tackle hunger and help people to get back on their feet. Together we can provide more food to the people who need it and cut down waste."
Matt Wilkinson, FareShare Southern Central

FareShare Southern Central has teamed up with Basingstoke charity Community Furniture Project to reach out into the area. Charities will now be able to collect FareShare food directly from Community Furniture Project, the new FareShare Local Collection Point for Basingstoke.

Phelim O'Hagan Project Manager at Community Furniture Project says "FareShare has created an opportunity for charities and community groups to benefit from the excess food generated by the food industry. Wasting good food is wrong, and we are proud to be associated with such a worthwhile charity."

FareShare Southern Central is part of FareShare UK Registered Charity Number 1100051 and is operated by SCRATCH (Southampton City and Region Action to Combat Hardship) Registered Charity Number 1078344.

Fire service ruling praised by PCC

NEW Home Office legislation enabling the police force to take more responsibility for the fire and rescue service has been welcomed by Hampshire's police and crime commissioner (PCC) Simon Hayes.

By Christian Wilson

The changes would see PCCs given more powers to hold their local fire and rescue services to account as part of the Government's bid to encourage closer working relations between emergency services.

Over 300 responses were received following a public consultation into the possible collaboration of blue light services.

Alterations include the potential for PCCs to create a single employer that covers both police and fire personnel.

And with Hampshire already mixing firefighters and police staff at the fire service's headquarters in Eastleigh to reduce costs, Mr Hayes has given the move his full backing.

He said: "Progress has already been made, and while the introduction of a legal duty to collaborate would formalise our partnership working, the concept is one that we have been embracing here for a while now.

"I am supportive of the Home Office that a case for more formal integration should be made locally.

"It is important to me that any such development should be as further collaboration rather than as a take over."

Police and Fire Minister Mike Penning met with Mr Hayes and other senior officials during a visit to Hampshire Fire and Rescue Service (HFRS) and Hampshire Constabulary's joint headquarters last Wednesday.

The Home Office has expressed its hope that 'bringing police and fire together locally under the leadership of a PCC will provide greater direct accountability for the public and will accelerate local collaboration'.

And Hampshire Fire and Rescue Authority (HFRA) chairman Chris Carter was quick to praise the role of continued collaboration between emergency services across the county in lowering the costs of HFRS.

He said: "We were delighted to be able to host Mr Penning and it has been good to see Hampshire's collaborative blue light working highlighted by the Home Office this week.

"Greater collaboration between the emergency services in Hampshire is making HFRS more financially efficient, and initiatives like the HQ share are making our county's fire and rescue service a stronger organisation."

He continued: "I am sure our chief officer team at Hampshire will continue to ensure that we are at the forefront of partnership working between the fire, police and ambulance services in the county."

Nurse Nathalie benefits from partnership

• Nathalie Allum (right) with HHFT chief nurse Donna Green

HAMPSHIRE Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust (HHFT) has gained four more registered nurses thanks to a link up with The Open University.

The partnership with the Milton Keynes-based university gives members of staff the opportunity to train to become a nurse and work at one of HHFT's three hospitals.

Healthcare assistants at Hampshire Hospitals are identified as potential candidates following a series of assessments and are able to continue to work in that role while they complete their training.

Nathalie Allum has been handed a job with the trust after carrying out her placement in the Diagnosis Treatment Centre at Basingstoke hospital.

She said: "It's a great achievement after four years of hard work, but it seems to have come around quickly.

"I have loved every minute of my studies and feel very lucky to have had this opportunity."

Fellow candidates Pauel Usenko, James Johnston and Sarah Ede have also been handed positions with HHFT, while 38 staff are currently going through the process.

Nathalie added: "There is much more responsibility, but that is a good thing and I feel there is a much more holistic nature to my care."

WIN tickets to see Mrs Henderson Presents

DON'T miss MRS HENDERSON PRESENTS, the hilarious, brand-new, five-star musical based on the much loved film that starred Dame Judi Dench and Bob Hoskins, as it makes its West End debut in February 2016 having left critics in raptures at the Theatre Royal Bath.

It's London, 1937, and recently widowed eccentric, Laura Henderson, is looking for a way of spending her time and money. After acquiring and renovating the Windmill Theatre, she hires feisty impresario Vivian Van Damm to present a bill of non-stop variety acts. But as war looms something more is required to boost morale and box office... Mrs Henderson comes up with the idea of The Windmill Girls - glamorous young women posing as nude statues - and audiences flock!

With book and direction by the Tony Award-winning Terry Johnson (La Cage Aux Folles), choreography by Andrew Wright (Singin' in the Rain, Guys and Dolls), lyrics by the multi-award-winning Don Black (Sunset Boulevard) and music by George Fenton and Simon Chamberlain, this glorious and heartwarming new production stars Olivier-winner Tracie Bennett (Les Misérables, End of the Rainbow, ITV's Coronation Street), Olivier-nominated Ian Bartholomew (Into the Woods) and Olivier-nominated Emma Williams (Chitty Chitty Bang Bang).

Closing date: Friday, February 19th

Sudoku

The objective is to fill a 9×9 grid with digits so that each column, each row, and each of the nine 3×3 sub-grids that compose the grid (also called "boxes", "blocks", "regions", or "sub-squares") contains all of the digits from 1 to 9. The puzzle setter provides a partially completed grid, which for a well-posed puzzle has a unique solution.

Film screening

LAST year's blockbuster 'The Man From U.N.C.L.E' will be screened at the Tadley Community Cinema this Saturday, February 6.

Starring Henry Carvill, Hugh Grant and Armie Hammer, the film sees two secret agents participate in a joint mission against a criminal organisation, which is working to increase nuclear weapons.

The screening starts at 7pm.

Student play

THE famous 1933 musical/play 42nd Street will be at the Central Studio in Basingstoke from Wednesday, February 10 to Saturday, February 13.

The play at the Cliddesden Road venue is made up of students who are currently doing an extended diploma in Performing Arts and Music.

Night of soul

SOUL covers band The Soultones will be performing at The Falkners Arms in Fleet this Saturday, February 6.

The group, who will be playing some of the greatest and most recognisable soul and funk tunes of all time, will visit the Falkners Close pub on three occasions this year.

The free gig starts at 9pm.

Rumours of Fleetwood Mac

OVER 50 years of recognisable hits will be blasted out of The Anvil on Tuesday, February 9 as one of the world's longest-running Fleetwood Mac tribute bands, Rumours of Fleetwood Mac, make their return to Basingstoke.

By James Richings

First formed 17 years ago, the group of musicians arrive at the Churchill Way venue as part of their latest UK tour.

And with the band returning to The Anvil almost exactly one year to the day they were last in the town, musician Alan Cosgrove, who replicates the legend Mick Fleetwood on the drums, believes the gig will be a fun night of reminiscing.

"The Anvil has always been good to us," Alan said

"The show is now 17 years old so we have been going to Basingstoke for a very long time and we always have a great audience there. We usually sell out.

"So they have supported it from the off, which is great."

Described by Alan as 'a snap show of the anthology of Fleetwood Mac', the group has done more than 1,000 shows since its inception, with the band touring all over the world.

Some of the group's best-known hits such as 'Dreams', 'Everywhere', 'The Chain', 'Go Your Own Way' and many more will all be included in next week's performance at The Anvil.

But out of all the songs the group will be playing, there is always one Fleetwood Mac hit that will stays close to Alan's heart.

"A lot of those songs mean a lot to us as well as the audience, because some of the songs have helped me escape from some of the events in my life," he said.

"I started listening to Albatross as it was my dad's favourite song, so I was introduced to Fleetwood Mac many years ago as a boy.

"I play Albatross at least 100 times a year in this gig and I always think of my dad when I play it as he is no longer here any more, so music is very powerful stuff.

"It always takes you back to a time and a place.

"As musicians, we have got to be so aware of when we are performing these songs to people, because we want to evoke a feeling of memory from the mist of time for people.

"So that is what our show is about."

The show starts at 7.45pm and tickets cost from £23.50.

Olympic singer Heather in town

SHE'S had a UK number one, recorded the official song for the London 2012 Olympic Games and even appeared on Strictly Come Dancing.

By James Richings

But for Heather Small, her main priority now is writing new material and getting back on the road as the 51-year-old makes her way to The Anvil on Sunday, February 7.

Known for being the voice of the popular '90s dance group M People whilst also having unaccredited vocals on the Blackbox hit 'Ride on Time' in 1990, the singer has had a very eventful career both as a solo musician and as a band member.

But despite the success, there is one hurdle Heather has to overcome every time she steps on stage.

"I'm a very nervous performer because before I go on stage, I get stage fright," she revealed to the Observer.

"I have a relaxation period as it keeps me calm all day, as you can be explosive on stage. You need to conserve energy.

"When I go to different cities, I don't go sightseeing unless I've got a few shows in one place.

"I keep it all together by preparing myself before I go on stage by keeping fit and doing a lot of vocal lessons.

"There is nothing worse than going on stage and feeling ill as you don't want to short change an audience, and you don't want to short change yourself."

Hits such as 'Moving on Up', 'One Night in Heaven', 'Open Your Heart' and 'Just for You' will all be heard on Sunday as Heather aims to give her audience a night to remember.

But there is one song in particular that Heather is known for in recent years, as her 2000 hit 'Proud' became the official anthem for the 2012 Olympic Games.

"To be associated with something so big where we had two glorious weeks of sport, weather and where there were thousands of people from all over the world was like the perfect time," she said.

"To be part of that was an absolute honour."

Talking about Sunday's show, Heather added: "I will be coming to the people so that it can be accessible to all.

"This show is a celebration and I want as many people as possible to come, and not travel miles away to see me sing.

"I want to go out and see them as that is always fun.

Heather also revealed that she plans on writing new solo material this year.

This weekend's show starts at 7.30pm, and tickets cost £26.

MARK THOMAS
Mark Thomas presents his usual mix of theatre, stand-up and activism in his brand new show.
Trespass carries on from where Mark's previous show 100 Acts of Minor Dissent left off. It is his usual odd mix of theatre, stand up, a dash of journalism, activism and dollop of mayhem.
Mark asks the question: If the ramblers of the 1930's were here now what would they do to open up the cities?
How do we turn the skyscrapers and corporate squares into our playgrounds?
He sets out to try and carve a small space in the urban world where mischief and random chance can lurk.
No one knows where this show is going to end up.

Has Ford ripped up the rulebook?

FORD is claiming to have 'ripped up the rulebook' with their new Ford Focus RS, by creating a fun all-wheel drive hatchback.

By James Richings

It is the first Ford RS model to have selectable drive modes and includes an industry-first of drift mode and launch control options.

With an engineered 350 PS version of Ford's 2.3-litre EcoBoost engine, the hatchback can do 0-62mph in 4.7 seconds and has a top speed of 165mph.

"The all-new Focus RS is a serious machine with high-performance technology and innovative engineering that sets new benchmarks for driving exhilaration on the road and track," said group vice president of global product development at Ford Motor Company, Raj Nair.

"It's a great example of our passion for innovation through performance and creating vehicles that make people's hearts pound."

The Ford all-wheel-drive system is based on twin electronically controlled clutch packs on each side of the rear-drive unit.

These manage the car's front-to-rear torque split, and can control the side-to-side torque distribution at the rear axle, improving handling and cornering.

The control unit in the rear drive unit continuously varies the front-to-rear and side-to-side torque distribution to suit the driving situation. A maximum of 70 per cent of the drive torque can be diverted to the rear axle and up to 100 per cent of the available torque at the rear axle can be sent to each rear wheel.

And the rear drive unit can switch drive from one side to the other in 0.06 seconds.

The all-wheel drive system also helps the driver use the best speeds while approaching and leaving bends, because the car automatically reduces speeds while coming up to a corner, and naturally accelerating automatically out of a bend.

Director of Global Ford Performance, Dave Pericak, said: "This all-wheel drive system is breakthrough technology as it is capable of delivering supreme cornering and handling at the limit."

"We have ripped up the rulebook which says all-wheel drive hatchbacks cannot be fun to drive, and have created a car which will surprise and reward."

Bison bowl over rivals on four point weekend

BASINGSTOKE Bison secured their second four-point haul on the bounce over the weekend to move five points clear at the top of the English Premier League (EPL).

By Christian Wilson

The Herd swatted Bracknell Bees aside 3-1 on home ice on Saturday before then clinching an impressive 5-3 victory at Manchester Phoenix the following evening.

Doug Sheppard's side went into the league double header with a point to prove after being burned in a 4-3 defeat to the Guildford Flames on Wednesday that saw them miss out on an EPL Cup final place.

And the Stampede responded in just the right fashion when they lined up against Bracknell at the Basingstoke Arena – peppering goaltender Alex Mettam's net from the first buzzer.

It was no surprise then when import forward Rene Jarolin broke the deadlock on 8:39 after combining well with Stuart Mogg and Daniel Lackey.

And Bison doubled their lead 4:05 from the first interval as the hosts took advantage of a powerplay before feeding Declan Balmer, whose slapshot at the blueline deflected off Shaun Thompson to find the bottom of the net.

Mogg, Lackey and Alan Lack were then all denied by Mettam in a scoreless second period, before Jon Baston did well to stop the visitors on several occasions at the other end as Bracknell built up a head of steam.

The goalie could do nothing to stop Scott Spearing from making it 2-1 on 52:59 however, following some great play by James Galazzi.

But star forward Tomas Karpov ended any nerves among the Bison faithful with two minutes to go as he latched onto Thompson's interception to backhand the puck home.

Basingstoke continued their positive momentum into Sunday in Manchester to fire themselves into a second minute lead through Ryan Watt, with Joe Greener doubling the advantage on 15:33.

Michal Satek then pulled one back for the Phoenix 6:33 into the second period, before Karpov struck again to re-establish a two-goal cushion on the half hour mark.

And Jarolin and Thompson joined the Czech in adding their names to the score sheet for the second night on the bounce either side of the second break to leave Bison with room to breathe.

Some fine link up play between Manchester's Ben Wood and Luke Boothroyd played in Robin Kovaron to score a consolation on 54:13, but it wasn't to matter as the Herd shut up shop to claim the two points.

Basingstoke are next in action this Saturday night when they will host title rivals Peterborough Phantoms at Planet Ice, before then travelling north to face Sheffield Steeldogs the following evening.

Town boss upbeat despite defeat

MICHAEL Gilkes has refused to be too downbeat despite his Basingstoke Town team losing late on for the second week running on Saturday.

The Town manager believes that his side did enough to show that they can avoid the drop after being narrowly beaten 2-1 by National League South leaders Ebbsfleet United.

A 91st minute goal from former Premier League striker Aaron McLean sealed the points for the Fleet, just seven days after the Dragons suffered a similar fate to lose at Havant and Waterlooville.

But after watching his side take the lead and look odds on to claim something for long spells against the league's big spenders, Gilkes chose to focus on the positives from the performance instead of the negatives.

He said: "They had such quality on the bench, you could argue that by making the subs they actually became a stronger side.

"Some people might have expected them to just turn up and get the three points, but it wasn't like that at all which is very pleasing.

"It's always very frustrating to lose so close to the end, but that's it and you move on.

"We know what it's like to be at the top of the league winning games in the last minute, so at the moment we're on the other end of that luck and it's up to us to turn that around."

The last two defeats came on the back of an upturn in results for the club, as Town won three league matches in a row to give them a chance of avoiding the drop, having previously won just two games all season.

But with a trip to fellow strugglers Weston-super-Mare up next for the Dragons this weekend, and 45 points still to play for from their remaining 15 matches, Gilkes insisted his players couldn't wait for the next fixture.

He added: "We just have to make sure that we go again after these defeats, and try to improve on them.

"That's as positive as we can be, and we just want the next game to come quickly actually.

"The lads have shown a fantastic spirit in how they're approaching games and how they're trying to perform, and their intentions are always positive so there's lots to take forward to in the next match."

Star misses out

HOCKEY: Odiham hockey star Alex Danson has missed out on the FIH World Player of the Year award.

The England and Great Britain star forward had been favourite to win the accolade after being named player of the tournament as she led England to the EuroHockey Championship title in August.

But Danson has missed out on the prestigious award, after Netherlands international Lidewij Welten was named the victor by hockey's international governing body.

However the 30-year-old's fine form has been rewarded with a place in the squad for Great Britain's six-test series in Australia, which begins next Friday and will run until Sunday, February 21.

Massive defeat

RUGBY: Basingstoke RFC moved one game closer to relegation on Saturday after succumbing to their second biggest loss of the season.

Gareth Hatherley-Hurford's side were hammered 64-0 at Down Grange in their Hampshire derby with Winchester to see them cut even further adrift at the bottom of the London 2 South West.

It doesn't get any easier for 'Stoke, who are still to register a single point all season, as following a week off, they will travel to league leaders Cobham.

Hat-trick hero

HOCKEY: Basingstoke Hockey men's 1sts closed the gap on Hampshire Surrey 1 leaders Bournemouth 1sts with a comprehensive win on Saturday afternoon.

A hat-trick from Dave Stones and goals from Grant Rouse and Todd Hutcheson paved the way for a comfortable 5-0 win over Southampton 1sts.

Next up for Basingstoke is a trip to fifth-placed Chichester 2nds next Saturday.

MCLEAN SINKS 'STOKE WITH LATE WINNER

AN INJURY time goal condemned Basingstoke Town to a 2-1 loss to National League South leaders Ebbsfleet United on Saturday.

By Christian Wilson

The Dragons looked to be on course to grab a point at the Camrose after defender Jack Deaman's first-half goal was cancelled out midway through the second half by Anthony Cook.

But former Hull City striker Aaron McLean stepped off the bench to break Basingstoke hearts in the 91st minute and ensure that the hosts remain second bottom on goal difference.

The visitors had the first chance of the game in just the second minute as the ball dropped to winger Jordan Parkes on the left hand side of the box, but his low drive was well tipped around the post by Town stopper Dan Lincoln.

But following the quick start, Basingstoke had the better of the first half after that - looking to capitalise on the sun being in Ebbsfleet keeper Brandon Hall's eyes at every opportunity by firing the ball long to strikers Reece Connolly and Chris Flood.

And some superb hold up play by Connolly nearly crafted an opener in the 22nd minute, as his ball found the onrushing Tom Bird in space down the left, with the full back bending an effort from 20 yards narrowly over the angle of post and bar.

The two combined well again four minutes later, with a goal line clearance denying Connolly after the big striker met Bird's corner.

But the Dragons weren't to be denied the goal they deserved as Bird's wicked outswinging flag kick was met perfectly by the onrushing Deaman to send a bullet header into the corner of the net in the 40th minute.

Ebbsfleet came flying out of the traps at the start of the second half, and nearly levelled just two minutes in as only the finger tips of keeper Lincoln stopped Jordan Parkes' curled effort from finding the far corner.

And an outstanding last ditch tackle from Deaman then somehow denied the visitors a certain goal on 50 minutes, after Matt Godden capitalised on a mistake from Lincoln to run through at an angle with the goal at his mercy.

The striker then found the side netting again 14 minutes later after rounding the Town keeper, but Ebbsfleet gained a deserved equaliser on 67 minutes as Cook cut in from the left and slammed the ball into the left hand corner.

Substitute Liam Enver-Marum almost scored a near carbon copy goal for Basingstoke 20 minutes from time, with his arrowed shot looking destined for the bottom corner before Hall's intervention.

Right back Ryan Case was then called into action to clear off the line for the hosts on 77 minutes following good work from Danny Kedwell, before substitute Aaron McLean then rippled the side netting from range for the visitors.

And with both sides chasing a winner in an end-to-end finale, McLean ghosted in at the back post in injury time to stab the ball home from close range and send the travelling fans wild.

Basingstoke are next in action this Saturday when they will travel to Weston-super-Mare.
